As the end of a college career approaches there comes the realization, which will grow stronger as time advances, that the four years spent at Middlebury are among the most enjoyable and formative which life holds.

To portray interestingly and accurately one of these years so that its record may be enjoyed in the present and cherished in the future is the purpose of the fortieth volume of the Kaleidoscope.
The Baccalaureate Service in Mead Chapel marks the last meeting of the members of each class as undergraduates. The Chapel, dominating the view from every part of the campus and drawing together the student body for daily services, is the bond uniting the college.
This panorama of lower campus outlined against the enduring range of the Green Mountains is seen daily from Chapel Hill. The severe and subdued colonial architecture of the buildings blends harmoniously with the rugged contours of the mountain environs. "The strength of the hills is His also."
STARR LIBRARY

In Starr Library is centered that part of the cultural life of the college that deals with the literature and art of many countries. Here students spend many hours, sometimes in search of prescribed knowledge and more often finding new fields of interest in the works of numerous authors.

WARNER SCIENCE HALL

A wide variety of subjects are covered and a number of countries brought to Vermont within the walls of Warner Science Hall. Students with interests in the natural sciences are always to be found here entering new realms of investigation.
CHEMISTRY BUILDING

The Chemistry Building, standing in complement to Warner Science Hall, completes the scientific unit of the college. In the several laboratories of the building many hours are spent in routine experimentation and research in particular branches of the science.

MCCULLOUGH GYMNASIUM

Notable both for sports and social activities, McCullough Gymnasium stands as an important unit in the life of the college. Among the events that take place here are those extra-curricular activities that form many pleasant memories.
Roadway on the east side of the divide—Battell Forest
LAKE PLEIADE

Fed by the clear, cold water of mountain springs and cupped in a wooded hollow near the top of the second range, Lake Pleiad is the most familiar objective of college hikers.

CLEARING NEAR BREAD LOAF

Grassy clearings, appearing suddenly amid the uniformity of the woodland expanse, add variety to the dark forest.
KIPTON GORGE

Bread Loaf road follows the course of the Middlebury River, favorite haunt of college anglers. The stream rushes down from the hills winding tortuously around the spurs of the divide.

BREAD LOAF MOUNTAIN

Rising clear-cut on the horizon, Bread Loaf is the most familiar and long remembered peak on the mountain campus.
Varying contrasts of light and shade add impressiveness to the panorama of upper campus as seen from Chipman Hill. Stately buildings and white spires stand out against the deep shadow of the woods and the fading grayness of Vermont fields.
The rugged beauty of Old Chapel recalls the cherished colonial heritage of Middlebury. With its quaint exterior stairs, vine-covered walls and austere architectural lines, it embodies the dreams of the founders of the college and expresses their ideals of simplicity, dignity, and frugality. The aspiration symbolized by its impressive tower has been used as the theme for these pages.

The Interfraternity Council administers all problems of relationship between the men’s social fraternities. It consists of two members from each house, a senior and a junior.

The council’s main responsibility is regulation of rushing. It lays down rules, administers and enforces them. This year no substantial change was made from the regulations of the preceding year. It was voted to continue the policy of deferred pledging, of having a visiting period preceding house entertainment, and of circulating copies of rushing rules among the freshmen.

A fraternity scholarship cup was established by the council this fall. It is to be awarded at the end of each semester to the house having the highest general scholastic average during the preceding term. In cooperation with the alumni, the council was again co-donor of a cup given for the best house decoration during home-coming week-end.
The object of the Pan-Hellenic Association is to regulate all matters of common interest and to promote friendly relationship between the six sororities at Middlebury. The body has jurisdiction over rushing and pledging rules and also helps to promote a high social and scholastic standard. A new plan of mid-semester rushing, which proved very successful, was introduced this year.

The association is made up of one junior, one senior, and one alumnae representative from each sorority.

Mu of Kappa Phi Kappa, professional educational fraternity, was chartered at Middlebury in 1925. The purpose of the society is to promote the cause of education by encouraging men to engage in the study of its principles and problems.

Membership is limited to those who have taken at least two courses in the education department and who intend to teach. Speeches by faculty members and informal discussions are featured at the meetings.

ORGANIZATIONS
The 1936 KALEIDOSCOPE is the first edition of the Middlebury annual to be published by a board representing the entire college rather than the junior class. Under a new constitution adopted last year, members of the freshman class try out for positions on the board, sophomores hold assistantships, and juniors head the various departments. The limited size of the board with increased responsibility resting on individual members has proved a very definite help in the production of the yearbook.

The editors of the 1936 KALEIDOSCOPE have attempted to modernize the composition of the book, largely through radical changes in the layout of type and pictures used in the various sections. Through an enlarged pictorial opening section, composed of sixteen pages, an attempt has been made to reproduce the outstanding aspects of the environment of the college. General organization plans used in recent volumes of the KALEIDOSCOPE have been followed this year.
The first Campus, known as the Undergraduate, made its appearance in July of 1830. It appeared twice each month with the stated purpose of "treating only with those subjects which pertain to literature." The project was financed by a group of young men who, though ambitious enough, were forced to discontinue their endeavor at the end of the year.

It was forty-five years before the publication appeared again, this time under the editorship of William W. Gay '76. It broadened its policy to include more of the happenings in the college itself in an effort to "renew the interest of alumni in the doings of those who had taken their places." It was issued monthly in a sixteen page edition and survived until 1899.

After several years of inactivity the magazine came out again under the present name of Middlebury Campus. It appeared quarterly under the guidance of Prof. Charles B. Wright and for the first time gave over its columns mostly to the printing of college news. It was the hope of the publishers to cover every field of college activity and thereby keep in closer union the alumni, faculty and undergraduates. In 1913 the magazine was altered to appear bi-weekly as a four column, four page newspaper. In 1922 another column was added with the paper being published weekly, and in 1927 it assumed its present form with the addition of an insert.

The board of the Campus is divided into an editorial and a business staff. Students trying out for positions begin work in their freshman year. Elections are held after the tryouts have been given ample opportunity to show their ability through both competitive assignments and examinations. Members of the sophomore class are elected to the assistant positions with the departmental heads being chosen from the junior class.

The entire field of student activities and interests is covered with space being reserved for communications, literary criticisms, and reviews of other publications, dramatic presentations and lectures.

The editorial policy of the Campus has this year been interested primarily in national affairs, economics, and world peace. It has advocated a production for consumption plan whereby the unemployed would be placed in contact with idle factories and machines to produce goods for their own consumption. It has supported as well the Association of College Editors' peace poll.

In campus affairs it has advocated the pass-fail system of marking, campaigned for the improvement of the Saxonian, favored a general election day for balloting for student officers, and continued last year's campaign for the establishment of an honor system for extra-curricular activities.

The Saxonian, founded in 1921 under the auspices of the English Club, is the literary magazine of the college. It is a student publication and is issued six times a year.

Material published in the Saxonian includes short stories, essays, poetry, and literary criticism chosen by the editorial board from student contributions. In addition to this, the Saxonian holds three contests each year in which there are prizes given for the three best short stories, essays and poems. A group of faculty members serves as the committee of judges for these contests.

The editorial board is elected annually and is composed of those students who have shown literary ability by having at least three contributions published in the magazine. The board is assisted by a member of the faculty who serves as an advisor. Election to the business staff is based on a system of tryout work.
The Handbook is an annual joint publication of the Student Council and the Student Government Association. The book provides orientation information for the freshman class and as a result is popularly known as "The Freshman Bible." Distribution is made, however, to every student in college since upperclassmen, as well as freshmen, benefit from its publication.

The manual contains information pertaining to college life and activities. A welcome to the incoming class from the President of the college forms a suitable introduction to the Handbook. Middlebury history and traditions, college songs and cheers, and the various prizes and awards made during the past year are included in the contents. The numerous organizations and extra-curricular activities of the college with names of the presiding officers are also listed.

Rules and regulations of the college and the rules governing fraternity and sorority rushing are set forth. The constitutions of the Undergraduate Association, Student Council, Athletic Council, Student Government Association, and Women's Athletic Association are presented in complete form. The Handbook also contains the names of all members of the administration and faculty and the location of their offices.

Contributions from the Undergraduate Association, Student Government Association, and Women's Athletic Association together with the income from advertisements by local merchants make possible the publication and wide distribution of the manual.

HANDBOOK

The Student Life Committee directs and controls the entire social program of the college. It is composed of a member of the faculty, appointed by the President, the Dean of Men, the Dean of Women, the president of the Undergraduate Association and the president of the Student Government Association.

As the college is located in a rural village where there are few public amusements, students are obliged to furnish all of the necessary diversions from their scholastic schedule. The social side is provided by the numerous gymnasium informals, fraternity house parties and formal dances. Extra-curricular activities supply the other portion of the program, Middlebury having more organizations in proportion to the size of its student body than any other New England college. Since the college has so many activities the Student Life Committee fulfills an important need. Its purpose is to guide the social and extra-curricular program of the college. It has the power to enforce all regulations issued by the Undergraduate Association and the Student Government Association. Permission for holding all social activities and regulations guiding them are issued by this body. Athletic schedules, student publications, debates, dramatic productions, glee club trips and other activities of extra-curricular organizations must be sanctioned by this committee. Finally, either the creation or dissolution of any campus organization must be approved by this group. The committee is composed of both faculty and student representatives to secure an impartial viewpoint on all questions considered.

During the past year the Student Life Committee recommended the abolition of Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary forensic society, and Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, finding no justification for their official existence on the campus.
The Student Council serves as the executive agent of the Undergraduate Association. It has the power to supervise the policies and activities of all organizations in the men's college and the individual actions of all undergraduate men.

Since its reorganization in the spring of 1929, the Council has been composed of the class presidents of the men's college; the presidents of Blue Key, Waubanakee, and "M" Club; and a representative from college publications. This membership brings together a representative group of college leaders. The president of the Undergraduate Association automatically becomes chairman of the Council.

It is through the Student Council that the Undergraduate Association carries out its control over extra-curricular activities. The purposes of all new organizations must be reviewed by the Council, and unless its approval is given, the proposed societies cannot be established. Decisions of the Council are executed by the president of the Undergraduate Association. The body's power extends only so far as it does not interfere with regulations of the college or the Student Government Association.

The Student Council has the very important right of making recommendations concerning problems which arise in the men's college and, upon the approval of the Undergraduate Association, of discussing the effect of the proposed regulations with the president of the college.

At a meeting held January 9, the Council instituted several important changes in the college regulations. The purchase of "M" sweaters, a transaction which formerly was performed by the president of the "M" Club, was placed under the supervision of the Dean of Men and the Director of Athletics. The Dean was also given control over all finances of gymnasium informals. A definite remuneration for janitor service and ticket selling was made compulsory.
The need of a student governmental unit to regulate all undergraduate activities in the men's college is provided for by the Undergraduate Association. Since the early years of the college's existence, there has always been such an organization to serve as a forum for the formulation of student opinion and to provide a means by which the entire undergraduate body can exert control over individuals and independent groups. From time to time there have been changes in the constitution of the Association which is now conducted according to a set of rules adopted in the spring of 1929.

Every undergraduate man at Middlebury is automatically a member of the Association and dues are collected as a part of the college fees. Meetings are called by the president of the Association, the Student Council, or by petition of two-fifths of the members. The president is elected at a general meeting held early in May when a list of nominees, drawn up by a committee consisting of a senior from each fraternity and the neutral body, is voted upon. The remaining officers are chosen in the fall by the Student Council from its own members.

The Undergraduate Association has jurisdiction over all student activities in the men's college. This control is legislative in nature and the interests and wishes of the Association are put into effect by its executive bodies, the Student Council and the Athletic Council. Each extra-curricular group is required to file a statement of its aims with the Association's officers and new organizations must meet their approval before they can be established. It may also make recommendations to the administration on matters concerning the college curriculum or management.
The Student Government Association of the women's college is a self-governing body, composed of all members of the college. It controls the conduct of all women in matters of college life which are not under the direct jurisdiction of the faculty.

The purposes of the organization are to encourage responsibility in the student body, to foster the spirit of loyalty among its members, and to maintain high social standards in the college.

The legislative power is vested in the Association as a whole; the executive power being in the hands of a council made up of the officers, two representatives of the house chairmen, and one representative elected by each class. Meetings are held at the discretion of the council and at least six times during the college year.

The Student Government Association sponsors the after dinner coffee hour on Sunday afternoons and also brings many interesting lecturers to Middlebury.
Membership in Waubanakee is the highest recognition members of the senior class can receive for distinguished service to Middlebury in the field of extra-curricular activities. Only those men are chosen who have given the best of their time and ability to the activities of the college, and who have shown most clearly their qualities of leadership and character in undergraduate life.

In contrast to Blue Key, which combines both honorary and functional duties, Waubanakee exists solely for the purpose of recognizing achievement in leading college activities. The selectness of the organization is shown by the fact that for the past two years the group has been composed of only three members, although the number to be elected is entirely at the discretion of the retiring members.

Waubanakee was founded in 1911 and is self-perpetuating, the graduating seniors each spring electing new members for the succeeding year from the junior class. The pledging or tapping ceremony takes place during the early part of junior week, usually preceding the baseball game on Porter Feld. Members wear a gold charm in the shape of a tomahawk, the insignia of the organization, and a black felt hat embroidered with the same device.
The Banshee chapter of Mortar Board, national honorary women’s society, had its inception at Middlebury when it replaced, in 1928, the local organization known as the Banshees. Its membership, which is restricted to twelve, includes those senior women who are most representative of the college in their service, scholarship, and leadership. The members of this organization cooperate with the Dean of Women in promoting a greater interest in college activities.

This year’s service program included an investigation of the large number of organizations in the college, a problem demanding serious consideration. It has brought to the women’s college several eminent speakers and has arranged for exhibits of artistic work. The last year has been marked by Mortar Board’s sponsoring of a much needed program in vocational guidance, introducing at Middlebury Miss Florence Jackson, vocational guidance advisor and member of the personnel bureau of Wellesley college. A shelf has been reserved in the new recreation room for information pertaining to occupational fields.

Early in October of each year Mortar Board conducts a mountain day for freshman women, and a similar event for seniors in the spring. The Mortar Board cup is presented annually, by the members of the chapter, to the sophomore woman who has shown greatest interest in the college through participation in extra-curricular activities and by high attainment in scholarship.
Blue Key, founded in 1930, is a self perpetuating honorary society whose initiates have, in the minds of its members, acquired the qualities of manhood and sportsmanship and have performed commendable service to Middlebury. Blue Key supplanted Sage and Delta Tau, previous junior and sophomore honorary societies.

The organization aids in the orientation of freshmen, in welcoming and accommodating visiting athletic teams, and in acknowledging service to the college. Blue Key finances itself through the sale of freshman rule posters, freshman caps, and athletic programs, and by sponsoring several informal dances. This year the society limited the enforcement of freshman rules to the period preceding the Christmas vacation.

New members of Blue Key are elected from the three upper classes and are tapped at a chapel ceremony soon after the spring recess. The insignia is a blue pin in the likeness of a key and members wear a soft hat of navy blue embroidered with a light blue key.

BLUE KEY
The "M" Club, founded in 1926, consists of all Middlebury alumni and under-graduates who have earned an "M" in one of the five major sports of football, basketball, hockey, track and baseball. Undergraduate members hold meetings every month. The organization awards "M" sweaters to all men who have received a letter in one of the major sports. Money for this purpose is obtained through the sponsoring of several informal dances at the McCullough gymnasium, and by contributions from the Undergraduate Association. The primary purpose of the club is to encourage athletics at Middlebury.
The Wig and Pen Masque is the honorary dramatic society of the college. It was established at Middlebury for the purpose of creating interest in drama among students. Members of the junior and senior classes who have had a rôle in at least one play, have done a specified amount of work in the department and have shown an active interest in dramatics are eligible for membership.

A new constitution was recently adopted in which the name of the society and requirements for membership were changed. The regular board of officers became the executive board. During the course of the year, the Masque holds three social meetings which are devoted to reviews of outstanding recent plays and to discussions of dramatic productions. An annual play is directed and presented by the club and a dinner dance is sponsored for members of the society and invited guests.

It is largely due to Prof. V. Spencer Goodreds, the faculty advisor, and to the Wig and Pen Masque itself that dramatic activities have claimed such an important part in life on the Middlebury campus.
The Men's Glee Club, which was founded in 1875, has been well-known for many years because of its annual concerts throughout northeastern states. This season the organization made trips throughout Vermont, southern New England, and the vicinity of metropolitan New York. On March 12, a home concert was given in Mead Chapel.

There were four soloists this year: Frank Brief, violinist; Vincent F. Sargent '34, pianist; Gordon E. Hoyt '36, cellist; and Douglas F. Reilly '36, tenor. The club selections ranged from delicate, melancholy, negro spirituals and folk songs to rollicking sea chanteys and drinking songs. The thirty-two vocalists who compose the group were selected from nearly seventy men who tried out in early fall. "High spots" in this year's program were radio broadcasts in Boston and New York City.
Under the direction of Joseph F. Lechnyr, prominent Vermont musician, the band made excellent progress this year. Its membership was augmented by enthusiastic and capable underclassmen, giving the organization a total of thirty-eight members. The popularity of the band was marked by its reception by students and speakers at Middlebury Night and football rallies, where its value in stimulating an active spirit in the college was commented on by President Paul D. Moody.

The band's activity is divided into two seasons, a late spring and a fall program. Last spring the band showed its deeper musical appreciation in the program of classical music offered during junior week on the steps of Mead Chapel. During senior week the group presented another concert and led the commencement procession. Playing at all home football contests and trips to Williams and Tufts were the outstanding events of the fall season.
The college orchestra this year has been organized into the Orchestral Club. The constitution of the new organization states that its aim is "to promote an interest in orchestral music and playing, and to maintain a high standard of accomplishment and performance in the orchestra." Any student who plays an instrument is invited to become a member. The training enables the student to become more proficient as well as more familiar with classical music. Rehearsals are held weekly in preparation for an annual spring concert.
The A Tempo Club holds a prominent position in the musical circle of the women's college. The club was founded in 1929 and is composed of women who have studied one or more semesters in the music department and have shown an interest in musical activities. The purpose of the group is to provide its members with an opportunity to accustom themselves to performing before an audience.

The club sponsors twilight musicales, given each Friday, which have become popular with the student body. These musicales are half hour programs presented by students of both colleges who have talent and interest in instrumental or vocal music. One of the outstanding features of this year's program was the opportunity given to its members to hear Richard Crooks. The annual banquet of the club was held as a Christmas party. Under the guidance of Miss Irmgard Foerster members have studied German folk songs.
The purpose of the Liberal Club is to stimulate intelligent discussion and develop serious consideration of current economic and political topics by the students. Although founded in 1932, the group’s active membership testifies to its popularity.

As part of an ambitious program, the club secured Norman Thomas as its main speaker last year. His lecture filled Mead Chapel with an attentive and receptive audience. Stimulated by this successful event, the club arranged an extensive program for this year. At the regular meetings members of the faculty were the guest speakers. Edith F. Muther of the World Peace Foundation spoke to the group early in March. As its chief undertaking of the year, the organization obtained Sherwood Eddy, internationally famed economist, to speak early in April.

The hope of the organization is to hold a round-table discussion, led by nationally known figures representing all lines of political thought, inviting representatives of all the eastern colleges to participate.
Since its birth in the spring of 1931, the Mountain Club has shown more rapid growth than any other organization on the Middlebury campus. Under excellent leadership, it has this year presented to the student body a well-rounded program of activities.

In the spring and fall, numerous day and overnight hikes were conducted to points of interest on the mountain campus and ski and snowshoe trips featured the program during the winter season. The club was also sponsor of the annual Winter Carnival held during the weekend of February 15-17, as well as the college championship ski jumping contest. As a member of the Intercollegiate Outing Club Association, it has worked in collaboration with similar organizations in other colleges and universities. Middlebury will play host to the representatives of these clubs in the Association's annual conference to be held this spring at Bread Loaf.

Ski instruction classes for both men and women under the tutelage of a professional skier and the new jump constructed on Chipman hill have been instrumental in making Middlebury winter sport conscious.

Opportunities for acting and work in coaching, producing, costuming, scene-painting and make-up are afforded to students through the dramatic activities of the college. Several long plays are given each year under the direction of Prof. V. Spencer Goodrds, head of the dramatics department, and a number of shorter plays are produced by members of the play production class.

The last performance of the 1933-34 season was "Outward Bound," an imaginative description of death, by Sutton Vane. It was presented May 8 and 9 as a part of the junior week program and repeated during senior week. Included in the cast were: Eugene G. Hoyt '34, Emery T. Hutchins '34, James S. Millar '35, Charles A. Deedman '36, Richard F. Dempewolff '36, Victor N. Sanborn '36, Dorothy M. Jordan '36, Elizabeth V. MacArthur '37, and Joy A. Rahr '37.

This year's season opened with the presentation, on October 30 and 31, of "R.U.R.," Karel Kapek's satire on modern mechanized society. November 29, two one-act plays were presented. "Tea Time," a comedy by George Savage, was produced by Faith Arnold '35 and Miriam E. Smith '35. "When Did They Meet Again," by Harold Brighouse, was coached by Elizabeth J. Bryan '35 and Elizabeth H. Loomis '35.

"Everyman," the outstanding morality play of the sixteenth century, was given February 18 and 19. Special scenery and musical effects planned by Professor Goodrds were a feature of the production. The performance was in the nature of an experiment since the play contains none of the production elements of a modern play.

Spurred on by their successful season last year, the men’s debating team made excellent progress this season. It won a large percentage of its forensic contests, debating most of the prominent eastern colleges. The enthusiastic response given by the freshmen, to the call for tryouts, uncovered men with promise and ability. Subjects debated concerned current topics such as: munitions, economic nationalism, and fascism.

The outstanding features of the year were two debates held with visiting foreign teams. The Middlebury men encountered representatives of Oxford in November before a large audience. Early in March a team from the University of Puerto Rico visited Middlebury and were enthusiastically received.

Participation in radio debates was another marked feature this year. In December two different teams debated Union over station WGY, Schenectady; and Boston University over station WNAC in Boston. Another debate, with St. Lawrence, was broadcast over station WCAD at Canton, N. Y.
Since all of last year's varsity squad were underclassmen, the women's debating team this year was bolstered by debaters of a year's experience. By having a more extensive schedule than last year, freshmen showing greatest promise in the tryouts were used in varsity engagements. Throughout the year the cooperation of each group was marked.

Two long trips and one short trip were taken by the team. Preceeding the Christmas holidays the women made their annual Boston trip and at the spring recess they toured lower New York State and ended the season when they debated Vermont at Burlington.

The practice which Middlebury has always preferred was again followed this year in debating topics of current interest. "Resolved: That the federal government should adopt a policy of equalization of educational opportunities throughout the nation by means of annual grants to the states for public, elementary, and secondary education" was debated earlier in the year while one of the topics debated later was, "Resolved: That the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions." With such subjects, interest has been stimulated in the student body, both as an audience and as debaters.

WOMEN'S DEBATING
The English Club is an honorary society of both colleges founded in 1921 to stimulate greater interest in art and literature, and to promote the discussion of literary subjects in a social atmosphere.

Monthly meetings are held at the home of President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody. The programs consist of special talks by faculty members, students, or guests, followed by discussions. October 3, Dr. Douglas S. Beers, head of the English department, gave readings from old English and a brief talk on "The Beginnings of English Literature." November 22, Mr. Lansing V. Hammond, on leave from the English department at Middlebury, spoke on Charles Lamb; and January 16, President Moody discussed H. G. Wells. February 5, Miss Rose E. Martin of the Spanish department talked on Odell Shepard.

Membership usually does not exceed forty, and is for the most part restricted to juniors and seniors. The admittance of new members is through written application and a majority vote of the club. Elections are based on high scholastic standing with special attention given to the courses in the English department, work done on the publications of the college, and the individual's interest in the purpose of the club.

Two groups form the German Club: die Kleine Gruppe, a small group for advanced students, and der Deutsche Verein, the larger group for all German students. Both meet once a month to study the music, games, and folksongs of Germany as a background for their study of its language and literature. The club is a member of the National Federation of German Clubs of America, of which its faculty advisor, Prof. Werner Neuse, is president. Through this organization contact with clubs in other colleges is established, a successful exchange having already been made with the club at Dartmouth.

Activities this year have included talks by Professor Neuse on the history and customs of Germany and a series of lectures on the art of various periods. A puppet show was also given by Professor Neuse. Carol singing and a nativity play were presented at Christmas time and a winter picnic at Lake Dunmore was held later in the year. The department was fortunate this year in having an exchange student, Miss Irmgard Foerster, of the University of Berlin, who has assisted the German Club in its programs and also given talks to various organizations. The club is attempting to bring German programs to the college, having presented Mr. Max Montor in readings last spring and this year sponsoring Mr. Hans Merx, an interpreter of German folksongs.

The French Club provides an excellent opportunity for those students who do not live at the Château to increase their knowledge of conversational French and to become more familiar with the literature, music, and customs of France. The club itself is affiliated with the international organization known as "L'Alliance Française.

The first meeting of the year was the traditional "bacon bat" held on Chipman hill. Monthly meetings of the club are held in the Grand Salon of the Château. This year's program included several short plays given by students and faculty members, a class stunt night, a puppet show and several talks on various phases of French life and culture. The first formal dance of the club was held in February.

Membership is not restricted to those who take courses in the French department, but is open to all students who are interested in the language.

The Spanish Club holds monthly meetings to further interest in the life, literature and culture of Spain. The group produces dramatic presentations, sponsors talks and discussions on topics relating to Spain, and holds social functions similar to those held among Spanish speaking peoples.

A chicken and rice supper served in the Spanish manner initiated this year's program. Early in March the club sponsored the annual Spanish Carnival, the only costume dance held during the college year. Members of the club and their invited guests attended and prizes were awarded for the outstanding costumes.

All members of the student body who are interested in any aspect of Spanish life are invited to join this organization.

The Athletic Council exists to promote interest in and regulate all athletic activities within the men’s college and in intercollegiate contests. It guides and determines the athletic policy of the college and oversees the management of all funds pertaining to these activities. The election of undergraduates to offices on various teams and schedules for intercollegiate sports must be approved by the council. This body also decides questions of eligibility which are not related to scholastic standing and awards insignia to eligible team members.

Membership in the council includes the Director of Athletics, five faculty members, the president of the Undergraduate Association, one alumnus, captains of the major sports and of each minor sport in season. Varsity managers are ex-officio members.

SEASON

A game, well trained 1934 Panther football team fought its way, in most cases against heavy odds, through a tough seven game schedule with a record of three wins, one tie and three defeats. It shares again the honor of holding the Green Mountain Conference championship as a result of a scoreless tie with the University of Vermont in the final game of the season.

The team, characteristic of most Middlebury elevens in the past, was light but scrappy, making up in fight what it lacked in weight. It was largely a veteran aggregation with every position but one filled by a man who had seen considerable varsity service the year before. A lack of good reserve power, however, was a severe handicap throughout the whole campaign as time and again in the closing periods of combat the tiring Panther regulars found it impossible to match successfully the elevens of their opponents replenished with fresh reserve power. As in previous years Coaches Beck and Branch had the team well founded in intricate Warner maneuvers that yielded 127 points throughout the season, the Panther scoring in all but the final contest. The lack of weight, of course, was felt most severely in the forward wall but here again proper grounding in the necessary essentials and finer points of good line play combined with indomitable spirit to partially overcome the handicap.

OSWEGO STATE

In the first game of the season, Middlebury ran roughshod over a weak Oswego State Normal team to win easily by a 47-6 count. The contest was an ideal one for an "opener" with the weakness of the opposition affording Coach Beck ample opportunity to experiment with frequent substitutions.

In the first period the Panther scored twice, Boehm racing off tackle for the first tally and Evans crossing the line with a pass from Williams. Forbush also added two points during this period when he blocked a punt in the enemy end zone. The second period was scoreless, but the third stanza opened with Midd blocking another kick in the end zone. Boehm and Zawistoski both added touchdowns shortly afterwards, and Chubb, an opposing back, intercepted a lateral pass for the only Oswego score. In the final quarter Boehm scored two more touchdowns and Williams added another as the contest ended.

WILLIAMS

The season's first loss was sustained at the hands of the Purple of Williams in a contest played on a wet, slippery field at Williamstown. The heavy going placed the lighter Panther at a severe disadvantage as cleats failed to hold in the soggy turf.

Williams scored twice in the first period before MacLean fell on a loose ball over the Purple goal for the first Middlebury tally. No scoring for the rest of the half left the count 13-6 at the opening of the third period. Middlebury evened the score in this stanza, however, when, after consistent Blue and White gains, Boehm raced fifteen yards off right tackle for the touchdown, the extra point being added by a pass.

The fourth quarter saw Holmes of the Purple scoring on a run off right tackle and a pass, Holmes to Stanley, accounted for another Williams tally. Midd was not yet through, however, for quarterback Williams completed seven out of eight forwards, one of which was tossed to Sweet for the final score of the encounter bringing the total count to Williams 27, Middlebury 19.

COAST GUARD

The Blue and White entered the win column again when it overcame the efforts of the Cadets of the U. S. Coast Guard Academy to win 32-2 in the second home game of the season.

The Panther was severely hampered by injuries sustained in the Williams contest, but after a scoreless first half capitalized every opportunity offered it to bury the Guardsmen under a scoring barrage.

The first tally came as a result of Sweet intercepting a Cadet pass as the whole Panther team hurried the thrower, and racing thirty yards for the score. A long aerial, Williams to Forbush who was stationed over the opposition's goal, accounted for the next Panther score with Sweet adding the extra point from placement. Zawistowski spun through the very center of the line for another tally, this being shortly followed by the only Guardsmen score as Leete, attempting to punt from behind his own goal, stepped over the end zone, two points being awarded the opposition.

ZAWISTOSKI SPINS THROUGH THE LINE — VERMONT GAME

The third Middlebury excursion over the Cadet goal came when Boehm intercepted an enemy pass on his own 10-yard marker to race the 90 intervening yards and cross the line standing up. Another perfect aerial, this time from Williams to Evans, accounted for the final touchdown of the contest.

ST. ANSELM’S

The second setback came at the hands of the Blue of St.
Anselm’s in a loosely played contest at Manchester, N. H., the Panther succumbing 19-13. In a game marred by numerous fumbles the Blue and White saw an early touchdown lead dwindle before a polished Saint passing attack, with reserve weakness again taking its toll.

Middlebury scored early when a sustained march culminating in a long run by Boehm, registered the first tally of the contest. Hoxie converted from placement. In the second quarter St. Anselm’s took to the air and after a series of effective short and long passes succeeded in tallying.

The third quarter found neither team being able to penetrate the other’s defense but the last period had not progressed far before another Saint pass netted six more points. After a Midd fumble on its own five yard line had been recovered by the opposition, another score followed to make it 19-7 against the Panther. Reverting to its own passing attack, however, the Blue and White succeeded in bringing the ball into scoring position from which spot Zawistoski took it over as the contest ended.

NORWICH

In its first Green Mountain Conference tilt, the Blue and White clearly showed its superiority over a gallant Norwich eleven as it downed the Cadets by a 12-0 score at Sabine Field. Middlebury played conservative football for most of the contest holding back until the best possible moment to release the perfectly executed plays that resulted in only scores of the contest. Norwich confined itself mostly to an aerial attack but the Panther had the plays all well spotted early in their execution.
Middlebury first scored early in the second quarter. With the ball resting on the Norwich 47-yard line, Boehm took a short pass from Zawistoski to weave his way through the whole Cadet team. The second touchdown was tallied in the third quarter when Forbush received a pass from Williams on the Norwich 16-yard line to cross the goal line untouched.

TUFTS

Journeying to Medford, two weeks later, the Panther lost 18-3 to a truly powerful Tufts eleven, returning with the distinction of having broken the Jumbos' unscored-on record. The game was close throughout, with the lighter Panther team showing equal aggressive strength in matching the Jumbos' eight first downs to eight. Five intercepted passes, three of which Tufts converted into touchdowns tell the story.

In the latter part of the first stanza, Hingston intercepted a Blue and White pass for the first score after a sixty-five-yard run. Hoxie then tallied for Midd with a perfect field goal from the thirty-six yard line to mar the coveted Tufts record. After intercepting another pass, Hingston again scored, this time on a spinner through the line. A shortside line buck by Froehlich in the final period netted the third and last Jumbo touchdown.

VERMONT

In the final game of the season, the Blue and White battled the University of Vermont to a scoreless tie on a wet Porter Field in a vain effort to determine the rightful recipient of this year’s Green Mountain Conference championship.

The slippery condition of the gridiron handicapped both elevens, and the drabness of the contest was added to by the fact that both were too well schooled in each other’s offensive tactics for the spectator’s satisfaction. Defensive football featured most of the afternoon’s play with Williams of the Panther successfully matching kicks with Cook of the Catamount. Vermont led in first downs, four to three with two of the Catamount ten-yard advances coming as a result of Panther penalties.

Twice did Middlebury cross the Green and Gold goal, but on both occasions the play was called back by official ruling. At one time Evans blocked a Catamount kick...
FOOTBALL

to race across the line, while at another Boehm cut through tackle to carry the ball over, the ruling being, however, that he had stepped outside during the course of his run. Vermont's offensive endeavors were centered around four unsuccessful attempts at field goals by Cook, the game ending just as the last of these flew far wide of its mark.

PROSPECTS FOR 1935

With twelve lettermen returning in the fall, in spite of the fact that this year Middlebury will face a stiff, eight-game schedule, prospects are bright for another successful season.

Opening with two hard home games against Union and Williams, the Blue and White will then journey to New London to meet its victim of the past two years, the Coast Guard Academy. Tufts will be next encountered at Medford, and then the first of the Green Mountain opponents, Norwich, will be met at Middlebury. St. Lawrence and Ithaca, two newcomers to the Panther schedule, will be met in succession on the next two weeks, with the season closing against Vermont at Burlington on November 16.

Spring practices have been held throughout the past months and, including the dozen returning veterans, forty-three candidates have been on hand. Led by Captain-Elect Golembeski at a halfback position, Dawes, Ruggeri, and Leete complete an experienced backfield. Lettermen available for the line include Brown, Cady, Clonan, Craig, Forbush, Hoffmann, Hoxie, MacLean and Westin. The remaining candidates are either upperclassmen who have not won their letters, or numeral men of last year's strong freshman team. From the latter group much is expected with the possibility that, as in other years, Coaches Beck and Branch will be able to uncover men of potential ability.

SEASON

The Panther freshman football team played three games during the 1934 season. Victories were scored over Union and the University of Vermont and a crushing defeat was sustained at the hands of a powerful St. Lawrence eleven. Inexperience was a chief cause for the loss of the initial contest.

Coach Nelson, with the aid of Victor J. Riccio, captain of last year's varsity eleven, molded a first team out of the thirty candidates. The Warner double-wing back system was used offensively while the 6-3-2 formation was used on the defense. Just previous to the playing of the Vermont game, Anderson, right tackle, was elected captain. Much prospective varsity material was revealed by the excellent individual performances turned in during the last two encounters of the season.

ST. LAWRENCE

The Blue and White cubs lost their initial game on October 12 when they were defeated at Canton, N. Y., by the St. Lawrence University frosh. The speedy offensive and heavy line of the New Yorkers was too much for the inexperienced Middmen whose play was handicapped by fumbling and by a lack of good reserve strength. The St. Lawrence yearlings made seven touchdowns and four points after touchdown for a score of 46. The Panther frosh never seriously threatened the opposition goal.

UNION

Following a week of hard practice during which several changes were made in the first team and several new plays were tried, the Panther cubs defeated the Union yearlings by a 7-0 score. The Middmen, with an alert offensive and hard-hitting line, were markedly improved.

Throughout the first half the Blue and White was almost always in Union territory. Liljenstein and Guarnaccia spun through the line for long gains and Chalmers gained many yards on the run-back of punts. The line opened large holes with Rand being particularly effective. However, a score was prevented by the tightening of the Maroon defense at the crucial moments.

Immediately after the opening kickoff of the second half, the Panther yearlings started a 65-yard drive that culminated in a touchdown when Guarnaccia plunged across on an off-tackle spinner from the three-yard line. Two passes and several center rushes by Liljenstein featured this successful march. The game ended with Union trying desperately to score by shooting long passes.

VERMONT

On November 12, in the final and most important encounter of the season, the Panther frosh eleven defeated its traditional rival, the Vermont plebe team, by a 15-6 count. Three weeks of steady practice had brought the Blue and White to near perfection in thirty tricky spinners, reverses, end sweeps and passses.

During the first quarter the Middmen completely baffled the Green and Gold kittens by a series of spectacular open-field runs. They failed to score, however, because of Vermont’s tight goal line defense, until the beginning of the second quarter. At this time Clark, the Vermont quarterback, fell on the pigskin behind his own goal line after Captain Anderson had blocked a punt on the 10-yard strip. After the Lake-siders had kicked off following the safety, the Blue and White swept to a touchdown with two long runs by Chalmers and Liljenstein’s plunge from the five-yard mark.

In the last quarter the Middmen scored again after a Vermont kick had been blocked near mid-field. Boehm threw a 50-yard pass to Winslow, who caught the pigskin on the 10-yard line. On the next play Chalmers crossed the goal after taking another toss from Boehm. The game ended after the Catamounts had finally tallied by means of a series of long passes.

WON 9—LOST 4
SEASON

Led by Captain Clonan, the basketball quintet completed a most successful season, winning the Green Mountain Conference title for the second consecutive year. With clean-cut victories over McGill, Northeastern, Norwich, St. Michael’s, the University of Vermont and the United States Coast Guard Academy, and defeats by such strong aggregations as New York State Teacher’s College, Union, Springfield, and Williams, the Blue and White won 70 percent of its encounters.

Coach Beck started the season with the Clonan brothers, Leete, Hoehn, Martin and Sweet, and built around these experienced men a powerful combination. The loss of Sweet by graduation in January was partially offset by the showing of Anderson and Lins, two promising freshmen, who saw considerable action as the season progressed. Hoehn and Leete were the high scorers for the year with Captain Clonan close behind. These men clicked in numerous plays and showed the results of good coaching and teamwork. While not playing as spectacular a position, Martin and F. Clonan were the dependable mainstays of the Panthers’ defence, working desperately every minute of the play. Lins, a newcomer, displayed excellent possibilities for development as a speedy floor man and a high scorer. With Benson, Zawistoski, Lonergan, Pollard and Anderson as reserves, the team had a strong roster of capable players.

At every home game there was a packed audience, showing the interest and spirit of the students. As all home games were victories for the Panther combination, attendance was further stimulated. With a well-balanced, thoroughly coached team and strong student support, the Blue and White turned in the most creditable performance in recent years.

MCGILL

In the opening encounter of the year, the Blue and White overwhelmed the Scarlet of McGill by a 38-26 score. For the short training period which the Middlebury men had, they showed exceptional early season form. As was expected, their passes were a bit off form but strong work in other departments made up for this deficiency. A strong offense and a superior defense proved too much for the opposition. The Panthers led for the first few moments as the Canadians had trouble in finding the basket. The first half was slow with Middlebury lagging behind by one point at the opening of the second half. From then on the offense began to click and the Beckmen surged ahead to win. Sweet was high scorer with fifteen points followed closely by Hoehn with twelve.

NEW YORK STATE TEACHER’S COLLEGE

Newcomers on Middlebury’s schedule, the State Teachers upset the Beckmen in their initial encounter on the trip held prior to Christmas vacation. A scoring duel from start to finish, the Teachers had the better end of the struggle, winning 58-52. While both teams were weak on the defensive, the New Yorkers took every opportunity of scoring and turned them to their advantage. Murray was high scorer for the winners, with a total of twenty-six points, while Hoehn and Leete were high for the losers with fifteen each.

UNION

Exhausted from their encounter in Albany the previous night, the Panthers met the Union hoopsters on their home grounds at Schenectady and the Union quintet, repeating its performance of last year, defeated Middlebury by a 47-30 score. Using its large reserve squad, the Garnet outplayed the Beckmen throughout. Semerard was high scorer for Union with twelve points and Leete for Middlebury with thirteen.

NORTHEASTERN

Fresh from the Christmas vacation, the team traveled to Boston and upset all predictions by defeating Northeastern University at the Huntington Y. M. C. A. by a 41-35 score. Completely bewildering the Bostonians with a smashing offense, Middlebury held the opposition scoreless from the floor for the first twenty minutes of play and ended the half with a 23-4 score in their favor. Hoehn and Leete were for the most part responsible for this first-half attack. The second half saw Northeastern open a powerful attack which netted them twenty-one points in the first ten minutes. The closing minutes of the encounter were fought on even terms with Middlebury holding its slight lead till the end of the game. Hoehn was high scorer for Middlebury with thirteen points, closely followed by Leete with twelve.

NORWICH

Opening the campaign for another Green Mountain Conference title, the Panther five defeated Norwich 32-24. Loss of Sweet by graduation and illness of two varsity men necessitated a changed line-up for the quintet. For the first few minutes of the encounter the game was even but the Beckmen broke the tie and maintained a lead over the Cadets throughout the remainder of the period to give Middlebury the advantage of a 19-12 score at the half. In the final period the Blue and White and the Cadets played on even terms with both teams battling for possession of the ball. The entire game was marked by slow action and loose playing. This game was the initial encounter for the first-year men, Anderson and Lins. Leete was high scorer for Middlebury with fifteen points.

ST. MICHAEL’S

For the second time in a week Middlebury defeated St. Michael’s, this time by a 27-19 score. As in the previous encounter, both teams played a weak, loose game with the Blue and White’s teamwork surpassing that of St. Michael’s. The game opened in a lively fashion and prospects of a spirited contest loomed bright, but the spurt was soon ended. The end of the first half saw Middlebury leading 13-2. In the third quarter the Blue and White flashed brief moments of its capabilities and then dropped back to its man-to-man defense. Ruggiero closed up the gap in the score by dropping in several long shots and the game ended much more drably than it had started. Ruggiero was the outstanding man for St. Michael’s, scoring ten points, while Captain Clonan was high scorer for Middlebury with seven, followed by Hoehn with five.
VERMONT

Gaining a firmer hold on the state title, the Panthers defeated the University of Vermont at McCullough Gymnasium by a 40-20 score in their next encounter. Looking like an entirely different team than the one which had played St. Michael's a few nights before, the Blue and White clicked perfectly. For the first ten minutes the play was completely in Middlebury's hands, but the Catamount soon got started and the contest was a lively one for the remaining thirty minutes. Middlebury completely outplayed the Green and Gold, using an effective system for both offense and defense, in contrast to the lack of team organization Vermont showed. The score at the end of the first half was 20-7 in favor of the home team. In the second half, although the Green and Gold substituted an entirely new team, they were unable to stem the tide and Middlebury was not hard pressed for the remainder of the game. Hoehn was high scorer with thirteen points followed by Lins with seven.

SPRINGFIELD

Tired from its long ride and fatigued from colds contracted in the previous week, the Blue and White fell before one of the leading eastern quintets 54-24. The first half was fast at times but the team was obviously so weak that Coach Beck used his second string in the last period. Nuttal, crack Bay State forward, totaled twenty-four points for the winners while Captain Clonan and Hoehn shared honors for the losers.

WILLIAMS

Returning from Springfield, the Blue and White played at Williamstown with a flash of their regular style. In the first half Williams piled up a heavy lead as the Blue and White did not click and led the Panthers at the half 22-9. A second-half spurt, aided by the substitution of Lins, brought Middlebury within one point of tying the score but the Williams hoopsters again found the basket and piled up an impregnable lead. Hoehn and Leete found their scoring eye in a closing rally but could not overcome the advantage Williams had piled up. The final count was 42-33. Navins and Sheehan were tied for high honors on the Williams team while Hoehn and Leete were high scorers for the Panther quintet.

NORWICH

Breaking again into the winning column and coming closer to the state title, the Beckmen romped to a 34-15 victory over an obviously weak Norwich quintet. While both teams played inferior ball, it was Norwich’s pitiable offensive and weak defense which enabled Middlebury to make such a good showing on the score books. At the end of the first half Middlebury was leading 20-4, due largely to Captain Clonan who collected eight of the twenty counters scored. In the second half Norwich desperately attempted to make long shots from any angle of the floor and was matched, shot for shot, by the Panther offense. Hoehn and the Clonan brothers were the high scorers for the evening.

COAST GUARD

Showing a marked improvement over its play with Norwich, Middlebury swamped the Coast Guard Cadets 54-29 on the McCullough court. Although the Blue and White experienced difficulty in getting started, it unleashed its greatest scoring barrage of the season to lead 34-16 at the half. Every Middlebury man in the game during the first half scored at least once. In the second stanza, the Beckmen lost no time in getting started and piled up an imposing score with Captain Clonan and Lins finding the basket frequently. The defense worked so well that the Guardsmen were forced to content themselves with long shots from the center of the floor. Captain Clonan, Hoehn, Leete and Lins all piled up high scores for Middlebury, collecting forty-seven points between them. Waldron was the outstanding player for the Cadets.

VERMONT

Putting the final touches on a successful season, the Blue and White traveled to Burlington and soundly trounced the Catamounts 48-34 to win the Conference championship for the second consecutive year. In the first period Middlebury completely bewildered Vermont, leading them by thirteen points at the end of the first half. While the second period was not as spectacular as the first, the Panthers spurted ahead whenever seriously pressed. Although substitutions were used freely by both teams, the fast floor work never stopped for a moment. Hoehn piled up his highest game score of the year, totaling twenty-two points, and was followed by Captain Clonan and Lins with nine tallies each.

WON 3—LOST 5
Middlebury was represented on the ice this year by a well-trained sextet that kept every game a contest until the very end and skated through an eight-game schedule with a record of three wins and five losses.

Faced with the problem of filling front line and goal vacancies left by graduation, Coach Nelson did well with the material on hand. Receiving an even break from the weather man, the Blue and White was able to practice fairly consistently throughout the season and showed the benefits of this in the course of its contests. Though outskated in most of its games, the Panther made up for this by calling upon an extensive repertoire of potential scoring plays that kept the opposition guessing and the puck largely in offensive territory. A galaxy of criss-cross, drop pass, and corner plays made the Middlebury offense, for the understanding observer, a nice thing to watch.

Insufficient front-line man power was the Panther handicap all season. With only one first-class line to use, Coach Nelson was forced to substitute individuals rather than lines against two and sometimes three complete strings of the opposition. Tiring Panther forwards found themselves time and again, in the closing minutes of contests, unable to stem the freshened tide of their opponents.

The first forward line was usually composed of Dawes, Phinney, and either Brooks or Swett, with the odd man teaming up with Westin and Pickens on the second string. The defense was the same as last year with the veteran pair of Captain MacLean and Bakey doing a yeoman job of breaking up enemy advances. For the breach in the goal Coach Nelson developed Nash, who came through in the later games of the schedule with some splendid performances.

AMARON HOCKEY CLUB

Middlebury's initial encounter brought an easy victory for the Panther when a weak Amaron Hockey Club, the unofficial representative of the American International College, was downed 8-0 on the McCullough rink.

The ice was fast and Middlebury easily had the better of the contest all the way through. Swett and Phinney were the kingpins of the Panther attack with the former grabbing off four goals and the latter two. Brooks and Captain MacLean each scored a goal apiece and Dawes was credited with two assists. The strength of the Panther defense was hardly tested. Most of the time Middlebury played five men up with the result that the Panther goalie was called upon for only six saves in the course of the entire contest as against thirty-nine for the opposing net minder. The weakness of the opposition made the game an ideal one for an opener with Middlebury, after running up a substantial lead, experimenting with its possible scoring plays.

WILLIAMS

In the second home game of the season Middlebury met a fast Williams team, strong in man power and went down to defeat 8-5 in a hectic, action-packed contest. The issue was by no means settled until the very end with Middlebury coming back time after time and always presenting a serious threat.

Dawes and Brooks tallied for the Blue and White to knot the count at two all at the end of the first stanza. The second frame, however, spelled doom for the Panther hopes as Williams came back with three goals in the course of two minutes. The last period, like the first, was about even with both teams tiring rapidly. Middlebury stood up well under the strain with Brooks counting unassisted for the first Middlebury score of the stanza. Phinney took a pass from Dawes four minutes later for the second goal and MacLean scored the last tally on a solo dash for the length of the rink.

HAMPTON

Journeying to Clinton, N. Y., four days later, the Panther, tired from the long trip, skated out on the Hamilton rink to lose a close contest 3-1.

The New York team had taken full advantage of the benefits offered in the way of practice by its indoor rink and outplayed the Panther for the first two periods. Their scoring was evenly divided, however, as they grabbed off a goal in each of the three periods. Middlebury’s lone tally came when Swett drove a long shot in from the blue line during the closing minutes of the contest.

UNION

In its last home game of the season, the Blue and White showed the best hockey a Middlebury team has displayed in several years to handily outplay Union 4-1.

Union scored first after three-quarters of the initial period, but Swett evened things up in the next stanza on an unassisted drive from the left boards. Phinney tallied twice in five minutes of play during the last period and Westin entwined the final Panther counter on a flat pass from Pickens. Middlebury’s passwork had the Garnet guessing throughout all of the contest with the playing of Jenkins of the New York Staters being the only bright spot in their offensive.

ARMY

For its 3-1 win over Army at West Point, Middlebury deserves more credit than for any other game of the season. Playing on a foreign rink and overcoming a one-goal deficit, the Panther showed its true calibre.

Splendid physical condition and consistent, intelligent team play was the deciding factor. Army scored first from a scramble in front of the Panther net midway through the first period, but from then on the game was all Middlebury. Dawes retaliated before the stanza closed and Swett lined in one of his blue line specialties during the following period. The final score came about ten minutes from the end when Phinney climaxed a solo through the whole Soldier team by feinting the goalie out of position to pop the rubber into the net. Captain MacLean was outstanding defensively.
DARTMOUTH

In Dartmouth, Middlebury met a far superior sextet and went down to defeat at Hanover by a 6-0 count in the only game in which the Panther failed to tally.

The Big Green was just too much for the Blue and White to handle and that tells the story. Gui-bord and Allen of the Indian squad stick-handled and passed circles around the Panther and gave Nash in the Blue and White net plenty to remember. Dawes and Phinney turned in the best performances for Middlebury.

COLGATE

Journeying next to Colgate, the Blue and White lost again, this time on a last-period goal in a close contest. The score was 2-1.

For two periods Middlebury outplayed the Maroon with the score standing tied at one goal apiece at the end of the second stanza. Phinney took a pass from Brooks for the Middlebury tally. Time and again the Panther forwards were in close on Billings in the enemy net, but the goalie-captain turned them back with a record of twenty-five saves during the contest. The final score that doomed the Panthers came on a play from McDonnough to Wood in the closing minutes and Middlebury returned home, outscored but not outplayed.

WILLIAMS

In a vain attempt to overcome its earlier loss to the Purple of Williams, the Blue and White closed its season by falling 6-1 at Williamstown.

Poor ice conditions hampered both sextets but the Williams man power was again an important factor in its victory. Middlebury played the Purple on even terms during the first period but heavy penalties during the following stanzas kept down any chances of Panther scoring. Towards the end of the second period Westin tallied the only Panther goal from a scramble in front of the Purple net. The rest of the contest saw Williams, led by Mosely, keeping five men well up in Middlebury territory.

PROSPECTS FOR 1935

With graduation this year taking only a meagre toll of two lettermen from next season's hockey squad, the outlook can be safely expressed as exceedingly good. With his new men now firmly founded in the essentials and some of the finer points of ice play, Coach Nelson can be expected to turn out a finished product in every sense of the word.

The men who will be missed are the veterans Bakey on the defense and Pickens at a wing position. However, Nash will be back in the nets to show what he has learned from his first year of organized hockey, MacLean will hold down his customary left defense berth, and the forward lines can be selected from the impressive veteran list composed of Captain Swett, Phinney, Dawes, Brooks and Westin. The other defense post presents a problem with Groby, who saw service in several contests this past season, offering a possible solution.

SEASON

It was largely a veteran nine that carried Middlebury's colors throughout the 1934 season, completing a schedule of fifteen games with a record of four victories, one tie, and ten defeats.

The pitching assignment for the Panther rested on the shoulders of Captain Stefaniak, Barker and Anderson with Guild, Herbert, and Hoehn also seeing service. The infield usually showed Hoehm holding down the initial sack, Zawistoski at second, Nash at third, and Meacham at shortstop. The outfield was patrolled by Barker, Phinney, Bakey, Dumas, Bona, and Ward, with the first three named seeing the most action. Ziegler handled the ball behind the plate.

NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY TRIP

Middlebury played its first few minutes of the season like a professional ball club. Completely surprising Union, the Panther scored twice in the first inning and twice again in the third. Stefaniak held the New Yorkers scoreless until the fourth when the opposition annexed its first counter. The fifth and sixth innings proved to be fast moving and prolific. The Panthers chalked up another run, but Union had a batting spree and succeeded in bringing the score to 6-5 in its favor. Both teams failed to count in the remaining stanzas of the game, the final score being 6-5 for Union.

The following day, the Middmen again found themselves against stiff opposition. A slippery field hindered the playing of both teams and errors were numerous. Anderson twirled for the Blue and White and kept the hits well scattered. Most of the scoring was done through poor fielding of both aggregations. At the end of the fifth inning with the score at a 5-5 deadlock, the officials called the game because of increasing rain.

A strong Panzer nine bowed to Middlebury and gave the team its first victory of the season. With the pep first evidenced in the opening of the Union encounter the Panther raced off to a mad attack, clouting five runs in the first three innings and three more in the fifth. Anderson started on the mound and was replaced by Guild when Panzer commenced a batting spree. Five runs were chalked up for the opposition before the onslaught was finally stopped by Stefaniak, who replaced Guild. Panzer tallied again in the sixth, but this was overshadowed by four more counters in the eighth and ninth for the Blue and White. The final score stood 12-8 in Middlebury's favor.

A heavy-hitting, superior Army nine met the Panther at West Point for the last encounter of the tour. The flashy pitching of Segrist, cadet star twirler, completely baffled the Middmen. The West Pointers scored two runs on several singles and consequent errors made in the infield. The Blue and White tied the count with a single by Barker coupled with wild tossing in the Army infield. The fifth inning featured a hard-hitting rally by the cadets and they scored five runs. A bad muff by an Army outfielder gave Middlebury her third tally, but the West Pointers added three more counts in the eighth to make the final score 10-3.

VERMONT

After the mediocre showing of their opening trip, the Middmen hurtled into a flying start in the Green Mountain Conference title race by decisively defeating Vermont. A slightly altered line-up proved to be a strong defensive combination. Fifteen hits were gathered from three Vermont pitchers while Captain Stefaniak had little trouble in keeping the Lakeside batters impotent. Every man in the Panther line-up contributed at least one bingle to the shower of hits. Zawistoski started things off in the fourth by walloping one over the fence for a home run. In the last of the fourth Vermont staged a rally that proved to be short-lived but two Green and Gold tallies were gained in the fifth. The Blue and White scored the last count in the ninth as the result of a walk and another single. The game ended 13-3 with the Panther on top.

ST. MICHAEL'S

A two weeks' layoff after the Vermont killing proved disastrous for Middlebury. The Middmen went down to defeat to St. Michael's in a galaxy of errors by the score of 10-8. The Mikemen gained a total of thirteen hits from Stefaniak and Guild and Middlebury chalked up the same number of hits. Circuit clouts by Phinney and Stefaniak were the only bright spots in the Middlebury performance. A total of six errors for the Blue and White made this exhibition of baseball a sorry sight. Hoskiewicz climaxed a brilliant pitching performance by fanning three Panther batters in the last stanza.

NORWICH

Incensed by the unexpected defeat at the hands of St. Michael's, the Middmen rose to the occasion and downed Norwich by a score of 7-4 on Porter Field. The game was slow and uninteresting with only a few lively innings. Zawistoski led the batters with three safe hits. Anderson twirled for the Blue and White, but numerous errors tended to keep the score close. Middlebury surged into an early lead and kept it throughout the contest. The ninth passed without any scoring and the final tally stood 7-4 in Middlebury's favor.

VERMONT

Another spiritless performance on the part of Middlebury spelled defeat from the hands of Vermont by the score of 6-5. Vermont gained an early lead and it was not until the ninth that they were threatened. A final-inning rally by the Blue and White in which four runs were registered just fell short of overcoming the Catamount lead. Guild walked ten men through the course of the contest. Twice the bases were loaded and twice the Guild-Ziegler-Hoehn combination worked a double play to save Middlebury from being completely overwhelmed. Meacham scored the first Middlebury tally in the sixth on a sacrifice by Zawistoski. The Green and Gold scored in the first half of the ninth, and the Panther attempted a comeback in its final turn at bat. Five hits registering four runs were not enough to break the early lead gained by Vermont.

MASSACHUSETTS TRIP

The Boston tour ended in four defeats for the Blue and White. Leaving with a serious lack of pitchers, the hopes of the Middlebury team were small from the start. The Brown aggregation completely outplayed the Middmen, scoring five runs in the first inning. Stefaniak yielded seven runs, and was replaced by Herbert, who had three chalked up against him in the sixth and one more in the eighth inning. The Panthers’ lone run came in the sixth when Bakey singled and then scored on a wild throw by the Brown pitcher. The score was 11-1.

The Panthers displayed a better brand of ball playing at Medford against the Jumbos. Captain Stefaniak pitched faultlessly and was well supported by his teammates. The opposition secured six hits to Middlebury’s five but the Tufts team bunched their safeties in one inning and won 4-0.

Middlebury was seriously handicapped in its encounter with the Eagles by the fact that it had no available pitcher. Hoehn, regular first baseman, tried his luck on the mound but the heavy hitters of the Boston College nine proved too much for him. Reputed to have some of the best hitters in the East, Boston had little trouble in swampying the Blue and White 17-3.

Against Northeastern, the Middlebury nine played its stubbornest brand of ball. It was a hard-hitting game on the part of both teams. In the first inning Bakey smashed out a home run, three singles followed, driving the Husky hurler to the showers. Phinney banged the first ball thrown by the new pitcher for a two-base hit and three more runs were garnered by the Middmen before they were retired. A furious batting barrage staged in the sixth and seventh placed Northeastern in the lead. The Blue and White scored five runs on two hits in the eighth when the Northeastern infield turned in error after error, but the game ended 11-10 in favor of the Huskies.

ST. LAWRENCE

St. Lawrence scored a 7-5 triumph over Middlebury, although outhit by the Panthers. Four errors by the Blue and White told the tale of defeat. A good piece of relief hurling by Barker, and hard hitting by Barker, Zawistoski, Stefaniak, and Bakey featured for Middlebury.

NORWICH

Norwich was nosed out 3-2 when Barker held the Horsemen to six bingles. Labouchere led the Panther batsmen with three safe hits. This victory completed the last of the four wins for the 1934 Middlebury nine.

ST. MICHAEL’S

The last game of the season was played at Porter Field as a feature of the senior week festivities. The encounter was entirely in the hands of the men from Winookski, and Middlebury was outhit and outplayed, although a last-inning rally nearly overcame the early lead established by the Mikemen. The final count was 7-5 in favor of St. Michael’s.

MIDDLEBURY 16—EASTERN INTERCOLLEGIATES
MIDDLEBURY 62—MONTREAL A. A. A. 64
MIDDLEBURY 65—GREEN MOUNTAIN CONFERENCE
WON 2—LOST 3
The 1934 track team, winners for the sixth successive year of the Green Mountain Conference championship, had a successful season. In the opening meet they swamped R. P. I., blanketing them under a lead of thirty-five points. The runners then met a series of fast competitors and some bad breaks. They lost their three mid-season encounters, dropping to fourth place in the Eastern Intercollegiates, and losing by nine points to a powerful Williams aggregation. Montreal A. A. A. barely edged the Panther by a two-point margin in a meet marked by brilliant Middlebury performances, unbacked by secondary strength.

Working with a number of lettermen from the last year’s undefeated team and with excellent new material sifted from a group of eighty-six candidates, Coach Brown developed a fast although somewhat spotty team. A lack of reserve men to garner points in the secondary positions was the main weakness. Of the lettermen Mathewson turned in the most dependable performance, taking first in the low hurdles in every meet. In the dashes Hoxie was equally valuable. MacFadyen, a freshman, ably filled the mile assignment left vacant by graduation. In the latter part of the season, he moved into the half-mile and was successful there also. Boehm and Forbush competed in the middle distances and Sears and Brooker divided the honors in the two-mile grind.

Work in the field events was less spectacular. Captain Lovell, however, covered the javelin throw credibly, Cady consistently came out on top in the broad jump, while Lombardy outthrew most of his opponents in the discus. The vacancy in the pole vault was filled by Hoffmann, and Watson and Whitney twirled the hammer.

Rensselaer

Traveling to R. P. I. for the first engagement of the season, the Panther trackmen completely outclassed their opponents. Of the fourteen events run off Middlebury took firsts in ten and tied in two more, giving them victory by the wide margin of 80-45. The Tech team was composed of almost entirely new material and, despite intensive training, failed to click against the superior Blue and White.

Poor track conditions, due to the earliness of the season, and a strong head wind, prevented either team from functioning at its best and there was little spectacular performance. Hoxie, with ten points, was high scorer for Middlebury, annexing first in the hundred, and tying with Boehm for a like position in the 440. Mathewson turned in his usual first place in the low hurdles, followed by Martin in second place. MacFadyen and Brooker took the mile and two-mile grinds, respectively. Forbush accounted for the 880, while Jocelyn brought the Panther into the winning column in the 220.

In the field events Middlebury gained twenty-eight points. Lovell and Williams placed first and third in the javelin; Lombardy, Evans and Whitney shut out the Trojans in the discus; and Cady and Williams outdistanced their opponents in the broad jump; while Hoffmann tied with his opponent of the Garnet in the pole vault.

WILLIAMS

The following week the Blue and White received its first defeat since the 1932 season at the hands of a strong Williams team. The Panthers were strong in the track events but comparative weakness in the field enabled the Purple to avenge last year’s defeat by the narrow margin of 72-63.

Two new college records were set in the keen competition. Mathewson broke his own previous record in the low hurdles, and Cady bettered the former mark in the broad jump. Hoxie was again high scorer for the Panthers, taking firsts in both sprints. Williams practically swept the field events, placing firsts in the shot put, discus, high jump, pole vault and javelin. Watson, however, annexed the hammer throw, while Cady and Williams took the broad jump to save the Blue and White from a complete shutout.

The home team showed more strength in the running events, taking all but three events. Hoxie, Cady and Foster left only two thirds to the Purple in the sprints, while Forbush took the 880 and MacFadyen the mile. The low hurdles were won by Mathewson.

EASTERN INTERCOLLEGIATE A. A.

Middlebury, defending champion at Worcester on May 12 in the Eastern Intercollegiates, was unable to hold its position and yielded first honors to Rhode Island State, dropping to fourth position. Fast competition and bad breaks accounted for the weak showing. Several freshmen, consistent winners for the Panther this season, were unable to compete due to the rule barring first-year men. Three individual champions of last year, Prochazka, Cady and Sears, failed to maintain their places.

Mathewson starred for the Panthers, taking first in his favorite event, the low hurdles, for the only Middlebury individual championship. Hoxie personally accounted for six points and was high scorer for the Blue, when he took second in both sprints. Forbush in the 880, Boehm in the 440, and Lombardy in the discus each took a fourth to complete Middlebury’s tally of sixteen points.

MONTREAL A. A. A.

Middlebury’s track men were barely nosed out by the Canadian club in a meet at Montreal, May 16, by a score of 64-62. Although they swept first place in seven of the fourteen events and tied in an eighth, the Panthers lost because of a lack of backing in the secondary positions.

The most outstanding single performance was made by MacFadyen when he won the mile by a good sixty yards, breaking a college record for the event which had stood for nineteen years. Hoxie and Mathewson also continued their excellent work, the former in the sprints, the latter in the hurdles. The middle distance runs were conceded to the Canadians, Boehm dropping to third in the 440 and Forbush to second in the half-mile. In the field Middlebury completely shut out their opponents in the javelin throw with Williams, Lovell, and Erkilla placing. Cady continued his successful defense of the broad jump and Lombardy took the discus.

GREEN MOUNTAIN CONFERENCE

Returning to the winning column to complete their 1934 season, the Panthers captured the G. M. C. championship in the annual home meet held at Porter Field May 26. Appearing for the second time at home, the Middmen, with a score of 69 points, easily outdistanced Vermont with 45 and Norwich with 21.

Competition was keener than the scores indicate. Favored with perfect weather and a well-conditioned track, ten new Conference and two new college records were established. McGuire of Norwich was high scorer for the meet with two firsts and a second in the weight events. Mathewson and MacFadyen for Middlebury were close behind with ten points each.

In the short-distance running R. Delfausse of Vermont took the 100 and 220, closely followed by Hoxie in both events. Mathewson captured the 120-yard high hurdles in 15.2 seconds for a new college and Conference record and set a new Conference record in winning the low barriers in 25.2 seconds. MacFadyen won the half-mile in 1:59 for a new college and Conference record and also established a new Conference mark of 4:37.2 in the mile run. Forbush placed second in the 880 and Seymour took second in the mile. Harwood of Vermont took the two-mile grind followed by Sears and Brooker of Middlebury.

Other Panther winners were Cady in the broad jump, Lombardy in the discus throw, Lovell in the javelin, and Hoffmann in the pole vault.

The indoor relay team, participating in a field relatively new to Middlebury's athletic program, definitely established its position by capturing the Canadian National championship in the final meet of the season. The team participated in three other meets against leading colleges of the East and succeeded in capturing two second and one third places.

The relaymen took second place in the opening match of the season at the Millrose games at Madison Square Garden in New York City. The Panther quartet bettered the Middlebury College record for the mile relay event by four seconds but were nosed out by a powerful Amherst team. Lafayette finished in third position.

At the Boston A. A. meet the following week the Blue and White runners, handicapped by the illness of several members of the squad, were forced to take third position behind the teams of Amherst and Bowdoin. The University Club of Boston meet found the Panther quartet in greatly improved condition and the Middlebury men, although again outdistanced by the Amherst four, clearly displayed their superiority over the representatives of all other New England colleges in the class B competition.

Running against the Achilles Club of Toronto, the Montreal A. A., and McGill University in the final meet of the year, the Blue and White won the Canadian national championship in a new record of 3:31 for the Canadian track. Mathewson, matched against outstanding competitors, took third in his favorite hurdles event.

The varsity cross-country team ended its season with a record of two wins and three losses.

The schedule opened against the harriers of Connecticut State over the local course with the Blue and White losing by the close margin of one point, 27-28. State finished two men before Middlebury's first man, MacFadyen, crossed the line. The following week the Panther journeyed to Williamstown to avenge last year's defeat at the hands of the Purple and win by a 26-29 score. Seven of the first ten men to cross the line were Middlebury runners, with MacFadyen and Meacham taking second and third, respectively, behind Gregory of the opposition.

Against R. P. I. the Panther won handily by a 21-34 count with MacFadyen capturing first place and Meacham second. Meeting Union the next week, however, it was a different story as the Blue and White lost, 22-33. Nestle of the Garnet captured first, flashing to a new Schenectady course record. MacFadyen followed in the second spot. In the final meet of the year, Middlebury lost the Green Mountain Conference title as it fell before the Vermont runners by a 26-29 score. The race was run over the local course with Woodruff of the Green and Gold taking first, and MacFadyen, Tilford and Gross placing first, third, and fifth for Middlebury.

The 1938 freshman cross-country team lost its only encounter of the year to the University of Vermont first-year aggregation by a score of 18-37. The contest was run over Middlebury’s three-and-a-half-mile course on November 17.

Coach Brown called out freshman candidates early in the fall and put them through an intensive conditioning program in the weeks preceding their only contest. However, this was more for the purpose of giving the men experience for the time when they could become varsity candidates than training for any particular meet.

After a number of grueling trial runs, the Panther yearling harriers met Vermont on a rainy day under extremely poor course conditions. Lamb, the most promising of the Blue and White freshmen, secured third place against a speedy, experienced Green and Gold team which sent Lafson and Steele to the tape in a tie for first place. Swan and Beebe were the next Middlebury men to cross the line, taking ninth and tenth places, respectively. They were closely followed by Smith, Lawrence, and Riccio of the Blue and White.

The new ski jump and downhill course on Chipman Hill gave fresh impetus to interest in snow sports this year. Despite lack of experience and adequate training, the winter sports team turned in a commendable record, capturing one first, one second, and two fourth places in five meets.

The season opened with a dual meet with Williams at Middlebury, the Blue and White winning by a 21-15 score. Clement of the Purple was high scorer, closely followed by Meacham, Springstead, and Hubbard of the home team. During the following week two ski teams represented Middlebury in New England carnivals. The varsity team traveled to Williamstown where they secured fourth place in the intercollegiate ski meet at the Williams carnival. The Middlebury representatives in the non-lettermen’s meet at New Hampshire were unable to place.

The winter sportsmen were unable to score against the stiff opposition at the Dartmouth carnival but placed second to the Big Green team at the Middlebury winter carnival the following week. In the latter meet the Panther snowshoe team was responsible for eight of Middlebury’s ten points. For the first time in its history, the Blue and White ski team traveled to Canada to win fourth honors in the Ski Union tourney at St. Sauveur. Dartmouth won the meet with McGill and New Hampshire in second and third positions. Toronto, Cornell, and Norwich trailed the Panther skimen.

The 1934 tennis team completed its season with a record of three victories, three ties, and four losses. The netmen won forty-two individual matches while losing only thirty-three to their opponents but failed to break even in team matches.

Captain Flagg played in the first position throughout the season with LaForce and Rudd alternating as the second and third players. Tierney, Holmes, and Brown filled out the team in that order. The outstanding matches of the season were two contests with the University of Vermont netmen, both of which resulted in 3-3 ties. In the first of these matches, Flagg and Rudd won their singles contests and Rudd and LaForce paired up for a doubles victory for the Blue and White. In the second match, Rudd and LaForce won in the singles and again won their doubles match to earn a tie for the Middmen.

Faced with a difficult schedule and handicapped by lack of practice, the 1934 golf team had a fairly successful season with a record of two victories in five contests. Captain Leete, Riccio, and Olson, lettermen from the previous season, provided the nucleus of the team. Lombardy and Neilson were selected from a large group of promising candidates and played consistently good golf throughout the season.

The team invaded New York State for the opening trip of the year, playing three matches. The Middlebury men shut out Union and were defeated by Colgate and Hamilton. The Hamilton contest resulted in a tie with the home team winning the playoff.

Traveling to Massachusetts for the final trip of the season, the Middmen played Holy Cross and Boston University. The strong Crusader team overwhelmed the Blue and White at Worcester by a 6-0 count. Against Boston University the Panthers made a much better showing, winning the match 4 to 2.

The object of the Women's Athletic Association is to promote and supervise the athletic activities of the women's college and to stimulate interest in all forms of physical exercise.

A special feature of this year's program was the mixed doubles tennis tournament sponsored by the Association early in the fall. Charms were presented to the winners. The Association held a hockey bonfire in the spring at the conclusion of the hockey season. Interclass tournaments, directed by this group, were held in the fall in hockey and tennis; in volleyball and basketball in the winter; and in baseball, archery and badminton in the spring. In addition to the regular tournaments the Association stimulates interest in hiking, horseback riding, and golf by giving an allotted number of points for each activity.

On October 20 a large number of members took part in "Play Day" with the women of the University of Vermont at Burlington. The Vermont women in turn participated in Middlebury's sports meet in the early spring.

To further interest in athletics the Association awards numerals to the members of championship class teams, "MC" monograms to those selected for all-Midd teams, and "M" sweaters to the women who have earned 1,000 points for excellence in athletics while in college.

BASEBALL

The 1934 baseball season brought with it a change in grouping the participants into teams. Instead of the usual class groups there were three teams, each having women from all classes on it. These three teams chose as captains Faith Arnold ’35, Mildred L. Moore ’37, and Erma A. Wright ’37.

After a series of competitive games had been played, the climax of the season came when the championship team was challenged by a team of the faculty men. This game was one of the biggest attractions of the season and the large crowd that witnessed it was amply amused.

Since there were no class teams, numerals were not awarded. The best players were chosen from all the teams to compose the all-Midd team and these were awarded the “MC” insignia.

HOCKEY

This year field hockey at Middlebury received even more enthusiastic support than it has in preceding years. So great was its popularity that it overshadowed all the other fall sports. From the many competitors who turned out, four teams were chosen.

There was keen competition for the championship with rivalry running high between the seniors, last year’s champions, and the juniors, who had come in a close second. At the last game of the season played by the junior and senior teams, the freshmen, who had won but one game, challenged the winning team to a game to be played at the hockey bonfire. The juniors, who won, accepted the challenge and the game was looked forward to with great anticipation. However, it was necessary to postpone the game and bonfire indefinitely.

Because of the great enthusiasm shown this fall, a spring hockey season is being planned and it is at this time that the postponed annual bonfire will be held.

The fall season having come to a close, an all-Midd hockey team was chosen. This team is made up of members of the four class teams. The girls are selected not only for skill and outstanding ability, but also for good sportsmanship.

The women of the college showed an overwhelming endorsement of volleyball during the 1935 season for never before had such a great number of women participated in the sport.

According to the usual plan, an intramural tournament was conducted. This season, due to the lack of time, there was a two-round contest rather than the usual three-round tournament.

The most exciting game of the season was that between the seniors and the sophomores, at the conclusion of which the victorious sophomores became the college champions. As a climax to the season, the victorious sophomores challenged the winning fraternity, Kappa Delta Rho.

Due to the enthusiastic welcome given to volleyball by the underclassmen, a freshman tournament was conducted between groups within the class.

The all-Midd team was chosen from those girls on the class teams who showed the best sportsmanship, adhered to training rules most faithfully, and showed outstanding skill in playing.

Teams representing the four classes were entered in the 1935 women’s basketball tournament. Practice began directly after the mid-year examination period and the season closed just prior to the spring vacation. This year’s program, under the management of Dorothy Gray ’35, consisted of a single-round tournament instead of the usual two-round contest.

An unusually large number of freshman women came out for basketball this season and, as a consequence, three freshman teams had to be organized. The freshman A team, undaunted by the greater experience of upperclass teams, won the tournament and were awarded class numerals. “MC” monograms were also awarded to those women who were judged to have shown the greatest ability and sportsmanship during the season.

The 1934 Senior Week activities opened with Class Day Exercises held on the lower campus Saturday morning, June 9. The history, will, prophecy, and poem of the class of 1934 were read and recipients of class awards, departmental honors, and membership in Phi Beta Kappa were announced. The annual tree planting ceremony and dedication was held in front of Warner Science Hall. As the final event of the program the Seniors formed a large circle and smoked the customary clay pipes.

Sunday morning, June 10, President Paul D. Moody delivered the Baccalaureate sermon in Mead Chapel. He chose as his text John XII:21, "Sir, we would see Jesus."
1934 COMMENCEMENT

The One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Commencement of Middlebury College was held June 11, 1934 at the Congregational church where College Graduation Exercises have been held since 1804. One hundred and thirty-seven bachelor's degrees were awarded by President Paul D. Moody to members of the class of 1934. Thirteen master's degrees and six honorary degrees were also conferred. Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president-emeritus of Harvard University, delivered the Commencement Address, speaking on "The Problem of the Independent College."

SENIOR BALL

The concluding event of the Commencement program was the annual senior ball held Monday evening, June 11, at the McCullough gymnasium. Bill Dehey and his Merrymakers furnished music for the dancing.

Middlebury’s second annual Winter Carnival was held February 15, 16 and 17. The holiday week-end sponsored by the Mountain Club, was directed by J. Reginald Springstead ’36 and Evelyn D. Poppel ’36.

Dartmouth’s winter sports team captured the intercollegiate meet with a total of 26 points. Middlebury placed second with 10 points and Cornell was third with a total of 9. Representatives of Princeton, Yale, and Williams also competed in the ski and snowshoe events.

Teams from Jackson, Mt. Holyoke, Russell Sage, and Wheaton participated in the women’s jubilee meet held on Friday afternoon. Sigma Phi Epsilon won the interfraternity winter sports competition held later in the afternoon. J. Reginald Springstead ’36, winter sports captain, won the college individual jumping championship.

Sid Carsley’s orchestra provided music for the Carnival Ball Friday evening at the McCullough gymnasium. Philip B. Taft ’36 and Elizabeth B. Bailey ’35 were elected King and Queen of the Carnival and Beta Kappa was awarded the cup for winning the snow sculpture contest.

The coronation of carnival royalty was held at the Ice Carnival Saturday evening. An exhibition of fancy skating was given and prizes were awarded for the most attractive, original, and humorous costumes.

A February thaw made conditions for the Carnival far from ideal and caused the cancellation of several events planned in the extensive program. All hockey games were called off due to poor ice conditions and the activities of the winter sports meet were somewhat curtailed by lack of snow.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The board of the 1936 KALEIDOSCOPE wishes to express sincere appreciation to all those who, through their cooperation, advice, and technical assistance, have made possible the production of this book. We wish especially to thank:

Mr. Russell Knight, of the Howard-Wesson Co., whose creative ability and generous assistance are largely responsible for whatever success the 1936 KALEIDOSCOPE may achieve.

Mr. Storrs Lee and Dean Burt Hazeltine, faculty advisors, for many helpful suggestions in regard to editorial and financial problems.

Mr. Warren Kay Vantine and Mr. Norman Johnson, of the Vantine Studio, for their complete cooperation and painstaking work in fulfilling photographic requirements under difficult conditions.

Mr. Harry Blodgett and the entire staff of the Free Press Printing Co. for advice and careful attention to details which make possible high quality printing.

Mr. Thomas Noonan, Mr. Leland Hunt, and Mr. Burton Holmes for their counsel.

There's nothing like a good meal to bring out the Caruso in you. But the hospitality of the Middlebury Inn goes further than good food, tastefully prepared. It includes spotless and comfortable bedrooms and a friendly thoughtful service that is something more than satisfying. Yes, sir!

NOTHING TAKES THE PLACE OF

Quality

IT'S an established fact that Vermont people consider tomorrow as well as today, and that's the simple answer of why this fine store has kept faith with its patrons. Through good times and bad, Sterns has held fast to its founders belief that ultimately the finer things are the least expensive. Now we're ready for a bright new season . . . with the things you want . . . with quality merchandise. Sterns has never compromised with quality, and this new spring merchandise lives up to the letter of that rule.

JUST SUPPOSE

Just suppose that four years ago you had started a Savings Account, and into that account you had put each week the extra dollar or two that was really not needed . . . the dollar or two that was needlessly spent. Today you would have a fund of $300 to $600

Why not start a Savings Account Today? Four years from today will be a short time . . . when you are looking backward.
